Cuisipro Introduces Specialty Locking Tongs

Markham, ON --- February 2011 --- Any builder, craftsman or chef knows that the right tool for the right job makes for easy work and good results. Cuisipro® presents a new collection of five specialty locking tongs customized for special tasks or foods.

The Tongs with Teeth give a little bite to food so that meats or vegetables are securely held when lifting out of a pan or dish. These tongs are especially useful when searing meat and removing it quickly for deglazing of the pan or when stir-frying vegetables that need just moments in a hot wok or pan in order to retain their textures and flavours. The Tongs with Teeth feature red, heat resistant silicone tips and stainless steel "teeth" and are available in two lengths, 9.5"/24cm & 12"/30.5cm.

The Panini/Grill Tongs are made of steel and are a compact, 7.5inches/19cm long. These tongs are designed to grasp and lift a Panini or grilled sandwich without damaging the grill surface or harming the sandwich. The unique moveable tines of the fork can be widened or narrowed adjusting to the grill size of any make or model Panini grills.

The Braising/Stew Tongs with red silicone tips are a must-have for a family that cooks in a Crock-pot, brazier or Dutch oven. The 12"/30.5cm long tongs are of ample length to reach into a pot or slow-cooker. The slotted spoon head scoops up meat and vegetables while draining unwanted liquids, while the solid spoon head serves as a ladle for scooping the sauces, broths or gravies.

The 13"/33cm Pasta Tongs with are designed to scoop and drain various pastas. The nonstick tips prevent the pasta from sticking to the tongs while managing to pick up the smallest remaining pieces. Large holes on each side of the tips ensure quick drainage.

The 13"/33cm Fish Tongs easily slide under fish without tearing the delicate flesh. The nonstick red silicone spatula with beveled edge gently glides under the filet while the stainless steel wire head gently holds it in place for ease of turning or removing from the grill or pan.

All of the new specialty tongs are made of commercial-quality stainless steel and feature a patented locking pull mechanism allowing them to be opened and closed with one hand. The locking mechanism keeps the tongs tightly closed for compact storage and a simple tap of the pull loop on a leg or hip will spring the tongs open. The silicone tipped tongs are heat resistant to 425°F/220°C and are dishwasher safe.

Retail price for Cuisipro's Specialty Locking Tongs range from $16.99 to $21.99.

All Specialty Tongs will be available early April 2011 with the exception of the Tongs with Teeth, which are available now.
